BACKING: Johnson

As hardworking Brits teeter on the brink, oil giants boast...

BP has notched up its highest quarterly underlying profits for more than a DECADE thanks to rocketing oil and gas prices that are crippling hardworking Brits. The oil glant saw underlying replacement cost profits – its preferred measure – more than double to 6.2 billion US dollars (£5 billion) for the first three months of the year from 2.6 billion US dollars (£2.1 billion) a year ago.

But on a statutory basis, BP swung to a 23 billion US dollar (£18.4 billion) loss after taking a mammoth 25.5 billion US dollar (£20.4 billion) hit from its move to ditch its near-20% stake in Russian oil producer Rosneft in response to the Ukraine war.

The underlying result was far better than the 4.5 billion US dollars (£3.6 billion) expected by analysts and is likely to further fuel demands from Labour and the Liberal Democrats for a windfall tax on oil and gas firms to help ease the cost-of-living crisis.

Chancellor Rishi Sunak has so far distanced himself from slapping a tax on the industry, instead looking to companies making big profits to invest the cash back into the UK.

In response, BP unveiled

plans alongside its quarterly figures to invest up to £18 billion into the UK energy system by 2030.

It pledged to invest in North Sea oil and gas, while driving down emissions, and said it is also working on a range of lower carbon energy projects in the UK, which are set to create jobs and develop new skills.

In a further sign that it is seeking to head off criticism, BP also stressed it expects to pay up to £1 billion in taxes for its 2022 North Sea profits, on top of around £250 million paid annually in other UK taxes.

Chief executive Bernard Looney insisted the group is backing Britain".

Epidemic of fatties causes 1.2m deaths

OBESITY has reached 'epidemic proportions' in Europe, causing more than 1.2 million deaths every year, according to a major new report.

The study, from the World Health Organisation (WHO), found that excess body fat causes premature death and is a leading risk factor for disability.

The COVID pandemic has made things worse, including for children in the UK, due to drops in exercise and increases "in the consumption of foods high in fat, sugar and salt", the report said.

Across Europe, being overweight or obese affects 59% of adults and 8% of children under five and one in three children of school age.

For Denise's parents, Dennis and Ione Huber, the agony didn't end upon learning their daughter had died.

Speaking recently, Dennis said: "He will die of old age in prison, I believe, before he gets the death penalty.

"And we'll probably die before he does.

"And we'll probably die beiore he does.
"The wound never heals. You just learn how to deal with it and it doesn't hurt quite as much as it did at first."

Ione added: "I can't tell you how much I still miss Denise. I think of her every single day."

miss Denise. I think of her every single day." Events began to unfold on June 23, 1991. Denise had graduated from the University of California-Irvine with a degree in social sciences and was working as a degree in social sciences and was working as a waitress while she was applying for jobs. She had a lot of pals and a real passion for waterskiing, travel, books and music.

As her cousin Carrie Vandenburg would later say: "There were so Denise was she knew what was important to her. You couldn't help but love her."

Denise was on her way to her parents' house in Newport Beach after attending a concert when one of her car's tyres blew, leaving her stranded by the side of the road.

No-one knows if she tried to call for help, or walk to a nearby garage, or if she had attempted to trek the rest of the way home.

All we do know is that the wayshy t seen again

Denise's Honda car was found unlocked at the side of the highway the day after she went missing. The battery was dead from warning lights being left on.

In the immediate aftermath of her odd disappearance, the entire community sprung into action and started searching.

Begging

Begging

Dad Dennis turned his car into a mobile billboard as he drove endlessly around town with leaflets, begging the neighbourhood for any information that might help them.

Dennis and Ione had no idea whether their daughter was safe and well and had simply run away, or if a crueller fate had befallen her.

Ione recalls: "I cannot adequately describe the pain, the agony and feelings of helplessness and hopelessness that I experienced.

"The days turned into months and the months turned into years."

Detective Jack Archer was the man tasked with the investigation.

MONSTERS OF

THE WORLD'S MOST EVIL MURDERERS AND THE HORRIFIC CRIMES THAT SAW THEM SENTENCED TO EXECUTION...

And he grew ever more certain that something terrible had happened to Denise.

Denise.

He said: "She was a young girl who wasn't into drugs and didn't appear to be rebellious. She wasn't someone that would just take off."

Police didn't know it at the time but Denise had the horrifying misfortune to fall prey to an evilly opportunistic murderer.

Neighbours described Famalaro—a painter and Neighbours described Famalaro – a painter and decorator by trade – as a 'loner' who went out of his way to avoid contact with them.

They also said he was a classic 'hoarder' who couldn't bear to throw anything away and whose front garden resembled a rubbish tip. What they didn't know is that he was raised by

On the night of Denise's disappearance, it's thought Famalaro just happened to drive past and see her stranded before pouncing like a predator.

Crowbar

After getting her into his car, he took Denise to a warehouse where he sexually assaulted her before caving her head in with a crowbar.

For the next three years he evaded justice while the Huber family faced ongoing torture.

Until, that is, the Hubers got a "miracle" in the form of Elaine Canalia's tip-off.

She said: "That truck...

BANG TO RIGHTS: The weight of evidence against Famalaro

HEN pretty student Denise Huber went missing after going to a concert, police spent three long years looking for her. Tragically, the 23-year-old would later turn up dead, her body hidden in the FRIDGE of twisted hoarder John Famalaro – a man who just couldn't bear to part with anything...

it just seemed so out of place. I assumed when I wrote down the licence number it was stolen.

"Never in my wildest dreams did I think that poor girl would be found in there."

Dennis Huber added:
"Elaine saw the truck and she told us that she felt a spirit pulling her to it.

"She felt so compelled that she wrote down the licence plate number."

Dr Ann Bucholtz, a

medical examiner, eventually performed the autopsy on Denise's body.

The court documents revealed: "Dr Bucholtz described Denise's skull as 'basically shattered'. "There were numerous curved and oval-shaped fractures and lacerations.

Brain tissue was visible through some of them.

"In some of these indentations were embedded pieces of the white plastic bags that had been wrapped around her head – the pieces matched slit-like tears in the bags. "Dr Bucholtz concluded that the blows to Denise's head had been inflicted

"They concluded that Denise had suffered at least 31 separate blows to the head.

"There was no way to determine how many blows occurred beyond the minimum of 31 heavys there could because there could have been fractures on top of fractures. "Dr Bucholtz finally determined that death resulted from blunt force trauma to the head.

Bleeding

"Because the scalp has many blood vessels, Denise's injuries probably led to profuse bleeding if her heart was still if her heart was still beating at the time of the assault."

As Detective Archer revealed, evil Famalaro could have hidden his guilt forever if he'd got rid of the body.

"The problem was he just could not throw anything away," Det Archer said.
"That's what led to

Archer said.
"That's what led to him getting caught.
"He's a hoarder. If he would have got rid of the body in the middle of the desert on the way to Arizona, we probably

The evidence against Famalaro was finally overwhelming.

When police searched his home they found boxes containing Denise's personal belongings, including her wallet, lipstick and car keys.

In another box, which was stained with blood, they found underwear, clothing and a hammer.

And when Famalaro took the stand, other skeletons tumbled out of his closet.

Anex-girlfriend, known as Cheryl W, described how she and Famalaro had taken a trip to New York, where he had proceeded to handcuff her to a window, strip her naked, open the curtains and then leave her there for several hours in humiliating her there for several hours in humiliating agony, before returning, laughing.

Another ex told how he'd handcuffed her to a bed while trying to forcibly have sex with her. He'd eventually relented when she'd screamed.

After being found guilty of Denise's murder, Famalaro, was told on September 6, 1997, that he faced a lethal injection.

Speaking of Denise's plight, Judge John J Ryan said: "Just imagine what was going through what was going through her mind."

He also referred to Denise's parents, adding: "Without argument, they made an extraordinary effort to locate their daughter. They both had difficulty with their work, eating and sleeping - but they always had hope.

Pain

"They went through years of pain. These were vears of not knowing and hope."

Dennis revealed his most prized possession
– a note Denise had left

- a note Denise had left on his computer. It read simply: "Hi, Dad. I love you. Have a great day. Love, Denise." Denise's still-grieving brother Jeff summed up the family's feelings. Shortly after Denise was laid to rest, he said: "I'd love to confront Famalaro with my bare hands. And you can put that in quotes."

VE are the ones getting screwed

DOES anyone really give a toss about who's screwing who in the Houses of Westminster?

Because it seems the only people really being turned over and getting properly shafted are you and me - the seemingly great unwashed.

unwashed.
That's certainly how it looks from here, and politicians of all sides in this election week should take note.
Whether it's a bloke looking at tractors that accidentally turns into tractors that accidentally turns into XXX-rated porn.

Or a deputy shadow PM reportedly boasting about her ginger growler.
Or a mad member of the Green Party, as we edge towards war with an out-of-control Kremlin, saying they'd still pull us out of NATO.
Or while that otherwise useless fat Scottish bloke stands up every Wednesday and wastes everyone else's time just to get himself on TV. Meanwhile, as this whole pantomime carries on, look the other way and you'll see what this bunch pantomime carries on, look the other way and you'll see what this bunch of lightweights have left us with. The roads are still fked. Schools are falling down.

Tower blocks are still in some cases clad in the same shit that exacerbated the dreadful Grenfell inferno.

Goosed

London, supposedly the jewel in our national crown, is increasingly looking like the UK equivalent of California's notoriously lawless Stab

City.

Hospitals are creaking dangerously.

After two years of pandemic, the staff are goosed, knackered, worn out. On top of that, we desperately need more cops.

And always more nurses.

And many, many more new houses. We need to make sure every home as a decent, high-speed internet connection.

Dinection.

Likewise for mobile phone signals.

But instead... what have we really got?
Moaning bastards going on and on about who had a piece of cake and where and with whom. Utterly fake "outrage" over the vital issue of did-he-or-didn't-he take a sip of beer

And whether anyone in a shiny suit was with him or her at the same time. Never mind the MASSIVE waiting lists that now bedevils "our" NHS.

Or the death-by-numbers game being played out between care homes and general hospital wards.

Or the ruinous amount of money it's going to cost each and every one of us to pay back.

Never mind our household bills shooting through the roof.

Or it being virtually impossible to even imagine most of our children ever being remotely able to afford ever being remotely able to afford their own house. We're all of us sitting on a credit card timebomb that's waiting to go off any minute. But what do our supposed leaders do about it?

Bugger all. Our Rishi is too busy looking after his wife's until-recent-exposure's tax-free pile of zillions.

Our Boris is too busy trying to find his trousers.

Our Keir just likes to repeat himself to the point of death-by-boredom.

And the aforementioned Our Fat
Scottish bore carries on... and on...

The band Del Amitri sang a few years back: "Nothing ever happens, nothing happens at all.

"The needle returns to the start of the song and we all sing along like before the song and we all sing along like before.

"And we'll all be lonely tonight, and lonely tomorrow."

Except we won't be lonely, will we?
We'll still have the fat Scottish bloke telling us nothing at all.

The government will carry on doing next to nothing.
The opposition will carry on moaning about stuff no one gives a toss about.

And us?
The mere taxpayers who pay for all of it?

To them we're just paydirt. Britain deserves more.

Dear Dani,

MY wife, a tasty brunette in her late 30s with massive boobs, likes to shag builders. She gets them to quote for jobs and then offers sex.

So far, we've had a conservatory and an extension done for very reasonable prices.

She was honest about her desires, so I don't feel she's cheated on me. Indeed, I often ask her to film the romps on her mobile phone so I can watch them too.

A couple of weeks ago I watched as a young fella in his 20s boned her. She sucked him off and then he nailed her hard and fast from behind.

The problem is that she keeps going on about him. Now I fear she's about to leave me for this stud.

What should I do?

Dear Dani,

MY girlfriend and I planning to get married and one night last week we were making an invitation list when I asked, half jokingly, if she had any skeletons when I asked, half jokingly, if she had any skeletons in her closet.

I couldn't believe it when she told me that she used to make porn films for a living!

She then showed me a clip online that shows her sucking cocks, being taken from behind and getting it up the arse.

She explained to me that she was only 19 when she made the films and she hasn't made any since the's bean with me she's been with me.

But I can't get the images out of my mind and I don't think I can go through with the wedding.

Please help!

Dani says... SURELY the sex.is good though ... right?

Filthy treatment from two nurse neighbours

Dear Dani,

A FEW months ago, two lovely young nurses moved into the flat above mine.

I saw them arrive and I couldn't believe how pretty they were, so I went to introduce myself.

One is blonde and the other a redhead and they both have stunning figures.

We got chatting and I ended up going to the local shop for some wine for the three of us.

After we'd had a couple of bottles, one of the girls told me that they were living together as lesbos, but they occasionally liked the cock, too.

Then she asked if I'd like to see what they get up to.

They started kissing and fondling each other's lovely tits and wet fannies.

It was like watching a red-hot porn movie, but with the added attraction of being able to get involved as well!

While the blonde was licking out her mate, I started shagging her from behind.

I then had the redhead before they both sucked me off.

The problem is I want to bone them regularly, but they told me I had got lucky and it—would be at least six months before they'd let me join in again. let me join in again. What can I do?

Mr Fix-it is nailing lucky me four times a weel

Dear Dani,

I'M a 36-year-old mum-of-two and I was devastated when my husband walked out on me for a younger woman two me for a younger woman two years ago.

I didn't sleep for weeks and turned into a virtual recluse.

Then, just before Christmas, I had a carpenter in to repair a broken cupboard in my kitchen – and my life virtually changed the moment I saw him.

He was a real hunk and very friendly too.

And after he'd done the job I found him some more work – just to keep him in the house a little longer.

Sauirting

Squirting

When he'd finished the tasks, I made him a coffee and we sat chatting for a while.

Finally, I plucked up the courage and blurted out:
"Would you like to have sex
before you leave?"
To my surprise – and
obvious delight – he said

yes.
A couple of minutes later A couple of minutes later we were naked on my bed and I was in heaven as he went down on me, licking and sucking on my fanny for ages—until I was nearly squirting. I then guided his length into me and I was soon near orgasm as he thrust in and out of me.

Then I came in waves as he shot his love juice deep inside of me.

After a few moments' rest I couldn't wait to get his cock in my mouth and I licked and sucked him to hardness again while gently massaging his swollen balls.

Since then, my handsome joiner has been bonking me four times a week – and I'm loving every moment of it.

But there's even more good news. I heard that my husband's young floosie has had enough of him and thrown him out.

Do you think my life has finally changed for the better?

Now her friend is pestering me for a repeat performance – but just the two of us this time.

I'm tempted because, to be honest, she's better looking than my girlfriend and far better in the sack.

Would this be cheating?

Kinky fun on film with husband and his mates

Dear Dani,

MY husband filmed me having sex with him and two

MY husband filmed me having sex with him and two fellas from his office.

It's not something I had ever seen coming, until he told me about his fantasy a few months ago.

I was a bit shocked at first, but I gradually came round to the idea and agreed to make it a reality for his 40th birthday.

I'm 38, blonde and busty with a good body, and my hubby showed my picture to a couple of willing lads in their early twenties.

He told me they were well up for it, so he invited them round to our house for a meal and a few drinks.

We had a good time and not only did we all get on

We had a good time and not only did we all get on well but I found these athletic younger hunks were making me feel really horny.

Stripped

I couldn't wait until we all got stripped off and my husband started filming as I sucked these lads off.

They then took it in turns to fk me. They were really turned on and were whispering in my ear about what they were going to do to me.

My hubby then had me and, unusually for him, he also made me come.

The thing is, these lads now want to see me behind my hubby's back.

I'm tempted. Any advice.

Dear Dani,

MY mate's mum is a busty brunette looker in her mid 40s, and I'm 22.
I've fancied her for ages

and pulled her a couple months ago.

I'm a plumber and was putting in a new bathroom for her at her fancy four-bed house round the corner from mine.

She was really flirty with me, right from the off, and it was pretty damn easy to get her knickers off. The first time I fked her she was wearing a tiny

G-string.
I did her from behind while feeling her massive

She then sucked me off and I licked her out in the 69 position. We now meet up for regular sex – usually just a quickie is enough to sort

The problem is that she wants us to have a "proper relationship" and says she will leave her hubby for me.

She reckons we would make a great couple and she really wants to do other things – not just sexual – with me. I don't want this to happen, as her fella and my mate will probably want to give me a sound beating.

Any advice?

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smalle and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

PLAY PLEA: Andy Murray

Let Russian stars play at Wimbers pleads Andy

TENNIS

ANDY Murray says Russian players SHOULD be allowed to turn up at Wimbledon this summer.
SW19 officials have confirmed their support for the move to ban racket swingers from Belarus and their bigger neighbour from the tournament.

Murray has made a big gesture of his own in saying he'll be donating all his prize money this season to humanitarian efforts in Ukraine. But he thinks the guidance from the government to ban players is not helpful to the general situation. And ideas that Russian stars should have to condemn the actions of condemn the actions of Vladimir Putin in public are potentially dangerous. Murray said: "I'm not supportive of players getting banned.

"My understanding of "My understanding of the guidance was that Russians and Belarusians can play if they sign a declaration that they're against the war and against the Russian regime.

"I'm not sure how comfortable I would feel if something happened to one of the players or their families as a result. "I don't think there's a

"I have spoken to some of the Russian players. I've spoken to some of the Ukrainian players. I feel really bad for the players who aren't allowed to play and I get that it will seem unfair to them. "But I also know some of the people who work at Wimbledon, and I know how difficult a position now difficult a position they were in.

"I feel for everyone, feel for the players that can't play, and I don't support one side or the other." It's not just Murray who thinks tennis's rulers are off the mark when it comes to banning individual players.

the biggest names in the sport is not a supporter of any restrictions. The Spanish legend said: "I think it's very unfair on my Russian tennis mates, my colleagues. It's not their fault what's happening in this moment with the war.

Nadal added: "At the end of the day, what happens in our game, it doesn't have any importance when we can see so many people dying and suffering and seeing the bad situation they are having in Ukraine."

IT'S GOING RIGHT DOWN TO THE

ARSENAL are in the driving seat for a top-four finish because they don't have to play in Europe.

That's the view of David Moyes who thinks the Gunners are being helped by having fewer matches to play at this busy time of the season.

It's a different story for the Hammers who are still in the hunt for the Europa League final.

Along with some key injuries, that has left Moyes' men fighting to keep

The Champions League is still alive for Moyes' men as they are very much in the Europar League semi against Eintract Frankfurt.

They trail 2-1 from the first leg but showed more than enough to trouble the Germans in their own back yard.

Moyes admits injuries are taking their toll on his side – especially at the back where Kurt Zouma is his only first-choice centre-back who isn't crocked.

Chance

The Scot is adamant that his team has every chance of seeing off Frankfurt on Thursday night.

He added: "We've got another chance to get into Europe a different way and we're going to try and do that as well.

"Let's just hope we can get those little things that are going against us at the moment to turn because we need that."

If Moyes has his mind on the Europa League, Arteta has an unlikely target in his sights.

He believes his Arsenal side have what it takes not only to get into the ton four, but that may ever hau!

Arteta has been singling out his defence for praise after the narrow win against the Hammers.

Rob Holding got a rare chance to pull on a Gunners' shirt.

He scored with a header from a corner but arguably made an even bigger contribution at the other end.

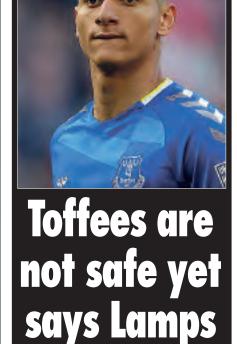

Arteta was delighted with his effort during the game.

He said: "The contribution that he is having in terms of minutes is not very noticeable, but the contribution he has for the team is huge whenever he plays

"He needs some praise. He is someone like Mo Elneny.

"He is the same type of character, same type of person, that is just humble, just wants to give to the team and is happy with the success. When you ask him to play, he is always ready to do it."

FRANK Lampard is warning his Everton players not to think they are safe because they beat Chelsea.

The battling victory against the Blues was a huge boost – but the Toffees are still marooned in the bottom three with games running out.

Richarlison's goal was vital after Burnley won at Watford and turns up the heat on Leeds who have some tough matches still to come.

Now Everton have more "winnable" matches to come against the likes of Watford and Crystal Palace – but the points aren't in the bag yet says Lamps.

win against his former club.

He added: "I don't think we have shown enough consistency to claim it is pivotal.

"We have had some moments against Leeds, Manchester United and Manchester United and Newcastle and we didn't carry on with it and now it is critical we carry on with it."

Pivotal

There is a feeling among many Everton fans that their team will be safe now after the colossal win.

are the same. We have got to run more, show more desire, tackle harder than the opposition."

Lampard is happy to see Richarlison getting back among the goals. The Brazilian has had to lead the line for most of the campaign with England hitman Dominic Calvert-Lewin injured for much of the season.

He has scored four in

He has scored four in his past five league games to hit form at just the right time.

He has adapted well to playing through the middle rather than his favoured wide spot.

Lampard said: "I thought he was first class against Chelsea, and needed to be.

"I prodded Richy pregame because he always gives that sort of effort but it has to be directed in the right way, in but it has to be directed in the right way, in terms of energy and output to put people under pressure.

"For the level of striker he can be he has to be clinical and he was and he won us the game through that."
